

Why Cultured Marble?

Cultured marbles unique inherent versatility finds applications for homes apartments, multi-family housing and commercial buildings.

In the last ten years the materials needed to manufacture cultured marble has improved dramatically allowing you to enjoy maintenance-free cultured marble products for many years to come.

We carefully cast our cultured marble into a variety of shapes, including sinks, shower pans and bathtubs to mimic the appearance of stone or marble.

“Cultured”, or man-made, stone products are custom molded pieces, generally created from polyester resin. They are beautiful, versatile and affordable... costing just a fraction of real stone. They can be manufactured in a full line of decorator colors, and since each piece is individually cast, we can create an infinite variety of textures, veining and design.
